Lumx

Brazil

Lead Technical Writer

Created English technical documentation from scratch (translated from Portuguese) for the blockchain fintech project using the Mintlify platform and maintained it for 16 months.

Successfully provided technical support for the Sympla company during the integration of the Lumx protocol into their payment ecosystem (direct contact with company managers, explaining common error logs and server responses, escalating serious bugs to the Lumx IT department).

March 2020 - June
2022, a duration of
2 years and 4
months.

Independent practice / Freelancing

Brazil

Copywriter, Technical Writer

During the pandemic, in response to the substantial increase in orders within the Western market, I dedicated myself entirely to freelancing. Over the past two years, I have successfully completed more than 200 projects involving article creation across a wide range of industries, including both B2C and B2B sectors. My working languages include English, Russian, and Portuguese.

February 2017 -
March 2020, a duration of 3
years and 2
months.

Seeking Alpha

USA

Editor

As a member of a team of six independent journalists, I contributed to a paid blog focused on investments on the SeekingAlpha platform. My primary responsibilities encompassed crafting daily email newsletters for the service's subscribers and editing and proofreading outsourced articles.

May 2015 -
February 2017, a duration of 1 year
and 10 months.

2K Sports, LLC

Russia

Website Content Editor

Developed and executed a content marketing strategy across social networks, resulting in a more than threefold increase in the user base of VK and FB groups within nine months. Automated the content publishing process on corporate social networks utilizing Selenium. Collaborated with the head of the IT department to design and implement the visual concept for the 2K online store. Produced over 50 unique banners and graphic elements for landing pages. Supervised three outsourced copywriters, ensuring the continuous generation of content for corporate resources.

February 2014 - May 2015, a duration of 1 year and 4 months.

Netville

Russia

Editor, Content Manager

Delivered technical support for the website of the federal Internet provider TTK and translated foreign training manuals into Russian to complete internal technical documentation.
